CELEBRATE BIKE TO/AT SCHOOL DAY IN MAY

The month of May celebrates bike to/at school programs including bike skills clinics at local schools, community bike rodeos and comprehensive trainings for PE teachers in Bicycle and Pedestrian Safety, using the Let's Go NC! curriculum. While the events continue to adapt to respect the range of COVID local public health guidance and combination of hybrid and remote learning settings, this month offers organizers/teachers and community partners opportunities to find creative ways to support walking and rolling.

Click on the following link to find ideas to recognize the importance of community connection. Check out the list of resources to help all of us maintain our focus on safety and health and ways to stay active together. <https://btsdwnc.weebly.com/>

Though not every idea will fit every community, we encourage you to pick among the options that make sense for your area and fit with local public health guidance. Please help continue the strong sense of community that makes bicycling and walking so powerful by posting pictures and tagging them #BikeToSchoolWNC.

The Safe Routes to School Program in Western North Carolina is housed at the Jackson County Department of Public Health and serves Jackson, Haywood, Macon, and Swain Counties.
